

Overview

While studying advertising in my native country of Dominican Republic, I decided to continue my career as a web designer in 2002.

2004 Digital Design graduate from Altos de Chavón School of Design; affiliated with Parsons the New School for Design, NY.

Worked for Pages BBDO Dominican Republic, a Cannes Lions-award winning agency in 2007 and 2008, where I worked as an interactive art director. Through my career I've worked on all kinds of brands from Bacardi, Pepsi, Presidente Beer, Puma and Verizon to name a few.

My last recent collaboration was at Lopez Negrete Communications, where I served as a freelance interactive art director for Dr Pepper.
